Preface:

BRS Student Link is a monthly newsletter that carries reflections of students at BRS. It's a platform provided by BRS for students to exhibit their talents, challenges and reflection on their learning process inside and outside the classroom. The newsletter is a digital communication medium to encourage all the students to express their views and talents

From the Publication Team.....

Creativity is intelligence having fun. On behalf of the publication team we try to bring the best out of every student and help them to recognize their ability in the field of literature ,poetry ,and art.

A creative mess is better than a tidy idleness, as creative minds can picture everything and place them in the right order. So stay creative and unusual , because being predictable is too mainstream.

POEM ON GRANDMOTHER

O' my grandmother
 So lovely and cute
 You are much better
 As you know how to play a flute
 You are my inspiration
 As you love to fulfill my wishes
 You are my affection
 As you make my favourite dishes.

FRIENDS FOR EVER NOW

We together are strong
 But separated we fall
 I alone do nothing
 Cannot do anything
 He alone does nothing
 Without him I don't stand
 Without me he don't stand
 If we separate we are nothing
 We work together
 Every single time
 We are friends for ever now
 I can't imagine how things would be without him
 Oh lord , oh lord
 I will do anything now
 For no letting you go my dear friend
 Because we are friends forever now

SEE YOU

I met my fate
 But it was a bit late
 You know why
 Because I had not done anything good
 Anything nice
 For I, for this world
 And for that I regret now
 I wish I had one more live
 Where I could fulfill what I want
 And do what I want
 I don't know why I have this feeling
 But I think it is for the best
 And let us leave the rest
 Oh great lord
 In the heavens above
 I wish you to spare me
 I wish you to give me one final chance
 Oh lord
 Oh lord
 Oh lord
 Please forgive me
 Everything I did till now was bad
 Useless
 And I want to change it all
 Just give me one more chance
 Just one more should I just say good bye or see you
 to this world
 I don't know but please correct me
 Show me the right path
 Take me to safety
 I depend on you
 Great lord

GOAL OF MY LIFE

My mind is travelling here and there,
Like a monkey climbing from tree to tree,
I don't know what to become,
I asked questions to many peoples,
But I didn't get a proper answer.

Some people are also saying things,
Which I even don't know,
As the time is coming nearer and nearer,
I am totally confused and scared,
I am now even thinking to be a vagabond
And lead a life of my own.

Many people suggested it as a wrong idea,
But one day I sat alone,
The only question which rose in my mind is about my future,
I thought of various professions,
Still I didn't get a proper answer.

At last I got the answer.

I am totally confused and scared,
I am now even thinking to be a vagabond
And lead a life of my own.

Many people suggested it as a wrong idea,
But one day I sat alone,
The only question which rose in my mind is about my future,
I thought of various professions,
Still I didn't get a proper answer.
At last I got the answer.

Till I Respect my parents,
Till I Respect my teachers,
Till I Respect my friends,
Till I Respect my fellow beings,
Till I Respect even my enemies
Till I follow all these things,
And be a proper Human Being,
I will not find an answer to these things.

मजदूर

एक उदास सा चेहरा देखा,
सर पर था भारी भरकम बोझा,
पर निरंतर बढ़ता अपने पथ पर,
आँखें झुकी हुई किन्तु लक्ष्य पर टिकी हुई,
बोझ से गर्दन कुछ झुक सी गई थी,
पर होंसला बुलंद था,
क्योंकि सवाल पेट की आग का था,
रात को घर के चूल्हे की गरम राख का था ।

भूमिका भट्ट

सबसे बदकिस्मत कौन

मजदूर से ज़्यादा बदकिस्मत कोई नहीं ;
जिसने सबके घर बनाए उसका घर कोई नहीं ।
दिन-रात सुबह-शाम परिश्रम करते थकते नहीं;
ये प्रभुजन अपने कर्म से कभी पीछे हटते नहीं;
परन्तु मिलता कभी इनको इसका फल नहीं;
मजदूर से ज़्यादा बदकिस्मत कोई नहीं ।
रूखे ग्रीष्म में वे जलाते अपने तन को;
कठोर शीत में सुन्न हो जाते वे ।
खिलाते भोजन अपने परिवार को;
सहकर असीमित कठिनाइयाँ वे;
परन्तु कभी अपने जीवन से किया विरोध नहीं;
मजदूर से ज़्यादा बदकिस्मत कोई नहीं ।
किन्तु मित्रों एक बात कभी भूलना नहीं;
यदि ये नहीं तो हम नहीं;
हमारा स्वर्ग सा देश नहीं;
ऊँची इमारतें नहीं, हमारे घर नहीं;
मगर दुखद बात यह है ;
कि मजदूर से ज़्यादा बदकिस्मत कोई नहीं ।

EL NIÑO- THE DISASTROUS WEATHER CALAMITY

El Niño is a climate cycle in the Pacific Ocean with a global impact on weather patterns. The cycle begins when warm water in the western tropical Pacific Ocean shifts eastward along the equator toward the coast of South America. Normally, this warm water pools near Indonesia and the Philippines. During an El Niño, the Pacific's warmest surface waters sit offshore of northwestern South America. El Niño always comes in slightly different shades. We usually see an El Niño every couple of years, but its strength changes each time and so does its effects on worldwide weather. El Niño is not the only climate phenomenon that can influence weather across the globe, so just looking at El Niño will rarely allow meteorologists to accurately predict snowfall for the season ahead.

The El Niño currently brewing in the Pacific is shaping up to be one of the strongest ever recorded. This phenomenon is expected to peak before January, with far-reaching impacts all winter and spring. Based on past experience, El Niño could potentially bring much-needed rain to California, but also drought in Australia, destructive floods in Peru, and so on. El Niño has already helped make 2015 the hottest year on record — and might well do the same for 2016. Severe droughts and significant flooding in many parts of the world are being attributed to this El Niño. The floods occurred in Tamil Nadu and United Kingdom is also caused by the effects of El Niño. There are ways to stop El Niño they are- Reduce greenhouse gasses, growing more trees . So let us wish that we will be able to save our environment .

FALIURE HAS NEVER CONQUERED MY AIM!

Have you ever felt really depressed over failing, that you have started thinking that you will never succeed? Yes! I have, and people who do not feel it never took the task serious but people who overcame that feel are one in a million dedicated workers... Infact dedicated hard workers. Some people do not show up with their talents because they daunt failure and think that they will be humiliated. But what's the point? "Haters will be haters".

We too should admit this fact and as Nike always said "just do it", all of us should do what we want to despite of the critics and the thoughts of failure because there are no failures, only feedbacks which help us to do best the next time. Well, not always best but surely better than before.

If your failure starts to conquer your aim you will succeed no matter what the scenario is, because you have already your dedication to your aim.

No one has ever reached till real success without the hard work put in. Some have luck and fewer to those have the ability to change their luck. The key to success is eighty-five percent hard work and the remaining fifteen percent luck, it is on you...how you bring those fifteen percent under your favor. Pulling yourself back and deeper into darkness will not bon you anything, at the same time revealing yourself to the light gives you more opportunities. Opening yourself to the world will give you chances to express and knowing your own self better. Failure is a part of life which should not stop anyone to reach their desired aim as sometimes you win, and sometimes you learn!

Working as a Team.

April 11th 2014,

Different students from different schools, backgrounds, culture and morals came under one roof... '8th A' Each and everyone ,scholars in their talent, but still had no idea how excellent they actually were on their own.

At the start it was a bit awkward to settle down but you know time fixes it all. All the fights we had, all the arguments we had... it dint slow us down, neither did it broke us apart, instead it just made our bounding stronger. We all got close, more over united would be a better term to define it.

Our unity and ability was shown during the first edition of our class magazine "Masterpiece". This was the time when we realized that together we can achieve more than what we could individually.

Then came the second edition of "Masterpiece". No doubt there was alot of dis functioning at this moment and our cooperation had also been a bit out of track but we could still publish the magazine without any further delay and despite all the fuss, we could actually achieve our goal... the reason behind it was that we are a family... more than classmates. We understand each other well enough and we might argue but we even know how to make up for our mistakes... after all we are a team of super 30! Together we have and we can achieve even more. No outsider can drag us down and this is the specialty of our class. Because, " When the clouds want more... we bring them the thunder, and you got my back so I'm not going under. You're my girl, you're my guard, you're my perfect cord, and I see our name together on every billboard. As there is no way I can make it without you!"

My Winter Holidays

I would not say this is my holiday because it is my friend's but I chose the title to be like that because of course he's my friend and that is somehow being related to each other. He was a normal boy, just like me and you, who did not do anything really great during holidays other than binge eat all sort of junk food which was missed out during the school days, catch up on television time that was replaced with "homework" and sleep to all his might. So his holidays were pretty much just like how ours were. But when school started his friends noticed one very big change in him. He was a lot (when I say lot I literally mean it) happier, cheerful, excited etc. (all sort of emotions that come to you when something really good happens). When his friends asked him the reason for it, he kept quiet (he was not really famous in his class so not much people to talk to). But his closest friend David took one look at him and said softly "I have been your friend for a long time but I have not seen this much joy in your life till now.

But since I know you very well (8 years) and also since I am a boy I know that feeling". "OH shut up!" Was Adrian's (the protagonist of the story) first reply but then he asked his friend "why do you think I'm this cheerful". David came closer to him and whispered something into his ear and both of them started giggling like a pair of old ladies gossiping. When the others (his classmates) saw them giggling they asked them the reason behind the sudden commotion stirred up by them (because of course it was irritating) they said nothing as the Adrian was trying to signalling David to not utter a word about the conversation they had now so David kept quiet but nothing can be suppressed for too long because eventually it will break out. So after a long time and lots of prompting David asked Adrian to say it.

Adrian did not agree at first but then he finally agreed. "No one starts to laugh Okay" said Adrian. Everyone agreed. Then Adrian began "during the winter holidays the first party I had was at a restaurant. my mom's friend, a new person at her job place invited my mom and us (he had sisters too) to the restaurant as part of getting a job. so I went thinking it's going to be boring but all that changed when I met someone over there. I talked with that person a little bit as it was the first I met that person but pretty soon I find out we had common interests. So we met again and again and for a Christmas lunch too (party after party) and bonded. Eventually I told that person something that was a first time for that person and me". "Who is this person?" "Asked one of the classmates. Adrian told "I'll tell that to you at the end. But first things first, that person replied to me on that first time thing I was talking. Yeah that person replied with a positive outlook. The answer was a yes". "What was the question? More importantly, who is this person" asked another guy. Adrian told "that person I was talking about is my girlfriend who now my crush too. I revealed it to her and she replied yes".

So probably you (the person who is reading this right now) might be wondering what sort of relationship does this title and the story have. Well the relationship is I spent my free time in the winter vacation thinking about a story like this and it is real too because I am David.

STORY

FIVE ON A DANGEROUS WORLD TOUR THIRD BOOK IN ADVENTURE SERIES OF JAMES AND MASON

Sunday, December 26, 2015

James was coming from the ice-cream shop. The day was bright and sunny although a chance of raining was there. He was also as merry as the sun riding by, the clouds shaping itself, the river gurgling with the fishes swimming strongly. He was also as greedy as a dog and his tongue was exactly hanging out like a dog's for the temperature was that much high and he was thirsty. He came home and both the brothers ate their ice-creams heartily.

MASON'S HAPPY NEWS!

Meanwhile, Mason also had happy news to tell. Before James had come, George had called him up to tell that they were going to Romania. "Romania!" exclaimed James happily. "It will be awesome to go all the way through Spain, tell me Mason, when are we going?" "This coming Thursday", replied Mason. I was Tuesday. They had a lot of time but less packing. So, it was dinner time and Alvin also came by that time. He also was obviously one of the five. Timmy too had come to his share of the food after which the big bloodhound barked at the top of his voice. The four ate their dinner and went to sleep.

Monday, December 27, 2015

NEXT DAY

The next day was not too sunny. It was a normal day. James, Mason and Timmy woke up. They woke up Alvin also, brushed their teeth, drank some hot cocoa and went for a leisure walk. It suddenly started to make a noise! What made the noise! The ground started to shake! Our heroes were certainly scared but were also curious for it did not feel like an earthquake. It was like someone did it artificially. "This place is certainly strange" told James and the four again started walking. On the way, they met George. "Hi guys!" he told and started talking casually. "So guys, packed up?" asked George. "Yes, we finished" replied Alvin. "After all, we're going tomorrow", exclaimed Mason and Timmy gave an extremely loud bark.

THE ADVENTURE BEGINS

The next day, they all went to airport and finished their work quickly. They boarded their flight and got into their seat. Romania was achieved by the flight very quickly. They got down the flight and came out of the airport and searched for a taxi. They got one very quickly and the taxi driver asked them the location. Alvin took out one map and five gleaming faces including Timmy's were bending over the map. 'Finniston Farm', declared Alvin and they started their journey towards their first place. "Ahh, just sit and relax till our destination comes" told James and started relaxing in his own way by opening the window, keeping his head out and seemed engrossed in deep thought. What a type of person is James! Even though seems engrossed in deep thought is opening his eyes.

NO RELAXATION FOR OUR HEROES!

They reached their destination quickly. James complained “Why couldn’t I sleep for more time! It ok, let’s go and eat food. I can smell sausages right now!” “Idiot”, exclaimed George. They went and had their food. It was a really wizard breakfast, marshmallows, pork, ham and some butter. Timmy also got some water from the shop woman. Finniston Farm was a really beautiful with plenty of roses, an ample mango and apple trees and many birds swooping here and there! Hey guys, I just spotted a woodpecker on the high branches of that tree. Even the orange-tipped whit butterfly was there flying happily with its dear ones. Mason was just about to yawn when George patted him and told that this is the first place to examine. Mason was depressed but he enjoyed observing with the others. Suddenly, George stomped on to a stone that was really shaky and commented sarcastically “Very good engineering” but this particular stone just moved away and George suddenly fell into a pit. “Ouch, this hurts, he screamed and the others went inside and James got hold of something. “Hey guys, look here! This is mysteriously awesome!” he exclaimed and pulled the lever and down everyone went, even Timmy and fell again with a thud and a long and narrow passage appeared before them. “This is getting exciting and exciting” Alvin shrieked and Mason produced a torch from his pocket. It was really powerful so they could see miles ahead. “Come on friends let’s get on with our adventure.” said George.

Just when they started, Julian called them up and told “Hey George, you guys are in Romania and in some dark passage, right, I tracked you guys. Just keep on updating the things you do and find”. Saying so, he hung up. After his call, the five went further and so were tired. They came to the end of the passage almost after two hours. They sat down. “Mein tak gaya, no sorry, I meant to say that I was exhausted after this long walk. I am so tired that I can’t differentiate between Hindi and English” told James but he was the one who suddenly saw some map and stood up. “Guys, there is a map over here” .The others also joined him and James took the map and opened it. Alvin took it from James with utmost care and spread it out. “Did we come all the way just for a stupid map” told the furious Mason. “Wow!” Alvin exclaimed. “What’s there for a wow as if you just found a treasure map!” Mason again grumbled. “Yes! It is a treasure map!” exclaimed Alvin continuously. “What! A treasure map! Show me, show me!” Told Mason pushing out everybody. “Yes, it is a treasure map, Mason” shouted out James at the top of his voice who was equally ecstatic. They quickly called up Julian and informed him. “That’s good news!” he told “Investigate all the land markings on the map and find the hidden treasure as fast as you can” and Julian cut the phone. “This is really awesome!” told George and they opened the map. “See, we can start from Billylock Hills and go through Killimoooin Castle to the place where the treasure is hidden” told Alvin. Even Timmy was happy as if he understood everything. Of course, he would have for he’s the smartest dog in the world!

ADVENTURE IS STILL ALIVE!

For their dinner, the five ate some pork, marmalade jam, butter, bread, hamburgers, cucumbers and some of the leftover marshmallows. The next day, everyone woke up very early, drank some water, cocoa, bread and started going to Billylock Hills. It was not a very long journey although it was tiring. After they reached Billylock Hills, they got a surprise. Two thieves were nabbing a wealthy merchant. James ran to help the man in trouble. The others did the same as James. The thieves were really strong but they could match up to our hero's strength. The thieves were taken by the police. Our heroes had smashed, kicked, punched and did everything. This is why the thieves were badly bruised. The five reached Billylock Hills around 3'o'clock and as usual James shouted "Lunch time!" Mason and Alvin laughed out as loudly as they could. They told George and James "We were just discussing about James asking for food!" George and James laughed. After food, they started investigating the place. Julian, also promptly called them up. He was informed immediately. After this affair, Timmy smelt the ground and goodness! He started barking towards the spot continuously. "Woof! Woof! Woof!" was his noise. The four went to Timmy quickly and George took out a stone which was really loose. The five went inside the unknown, exciting place and suddenly...

Trapped!

The five saw six bulky ruffians. Most likely, it was a surprise for our heroes but not for the ruffians. They took out their revolvers and pointed at Timmy. "Oh, don't you dare shoot him, you merciless brutes!" cried James. "Then come with us", told the ruffians threateningly. The ruffians tied our helpless heroes and dragged them to a boat. Now our heroes were confused. Why take us in a boat when there is no water around you? Almost immediately and surprisingly, our heroes got their answer. One of the ruffians pushed a lever and a secret cellar opened; they all then went in the boat to the ruffian's hiding.

A WAY OF ESCAPE!

PART I

They were treated very badly when they reached the ruffian's hideout. They got only bread and water for eating. They ate it with disappointment and slept hungrily. When they were sleeping, the five heard the ruffian's speaking in an incomprehensible dialect. Hearing this, even the five started talking in whispers. I can't hear them, oh wait! I can hear them, why! I can even make out some words. "Come guys, what... ruffians did us! Putting in cellar! I will try making out those words. Umm! Yes, I got it! James was speaking and he told "Come on guys, what have these ruffians done to us! They put us in a cellar for nothing." He told in a furious voice. "Let us out!" he shouted and started banging the door. He almost broke it but the ruffians raged in and shouted at the five. George stopped them just in time. "No fighting or else we still have time to call our men who are just in the next street", spoke George. The ruffians talked among themselves and decided not to violate. They warned our heroes and went out furiously. The five had to satisfy their hunger with bread that they got from the ruffians. James started banging the door again.

THE NEXT ADVENTURE!

Friday, December 31, 2015

The next day, as usual George woke up first and got ready, by the time he got dressed up, the others also woke up. Alvin was busy with the map when... "Oh Yes!" "What's there to say Yes when we are locked up?" asked George annoyed. We are no longer going to be locked up here. There's some secret passage down in the rocks to our right and that leads to the Beverly Hills" said Alvin. "Okay, then we are bound to waste our time by finding those rocks" said George. George, are you really sure that this secret way might be useless! Who knows!

A Way Of Escape!

Part 2

So they started searching for the right rocks. Alvin suddenly saw a rock with an inscription which read out "The Way of Escape". "Guys, I think I have found the rock", said Alvin. Then they started hitting the rock with their bare fists and soon enough the rock broke up. For the ruffians to not hear the sound, James put on some old and useless lullaby. The five just came out and what a horror! One of the ruffians was coming to serve them their dinner (Will not satisfy the hunger of our heroes). The ruffian was about to shout for help but then Timmy was not generous. He gave a growl and his hackles were rising. The ruffian was standing stupefied and using this opportunity, the five ran away. For now, our heroes have escaped but the next morning is the actual surprise.

The Surprise!

The next day, the five woke up and noticed that they were being carried in a cart. They all asked in a chorus "Who are you and why are you taking us away in this cart?" Almost immediately, the driver answered "Hello, so basically I am Thomas and I heard you saying that you wanted to go to Beverly Hills. So..." "So?" asked James and the driver revealed his true identity. It was actually one of the ruffians! Our heroes were startled when they saw the hay in front of them revealing five or six more ruffians. This time... no fighting, only escaping. Thinking so, the five just jumped and ran away. Even Timmy didn't want any nonsense so he barked, growled and ran way. The ruffians were too late. So the five ran away and the ruffians had to go disappointed.

Saturday, January 1, 2016

A FULL PACKAGE OF HAPPINESS!

The afternoon was quite pleasant. The five got food at an inn and the delicacies were really nice. There was lamb, chicken, apple pie, pork and bread with jam and butter. They then asked the inn-keeper of where was Beverly Hills. They took out the map and the inn-keeper marked the route. They thanked the guy and went on their way. Before reaching Beverly Hills, it was evening and started to get dark. Since the five saw another inn, they stayed there over there for the night.

BIKE ESCAPE!

The next day, all the people at the inn woke up early because a second helping was not provided to anyone. The five sat on a table and were discussing their plans for the day. "We can reach Beverly Hills soon" said Alvin. They gave the inn-keeper the money and went. When they were casually walking, they saw some bulky people who were riding around the five in circles. Mason was quick to react. He knew that these were other than the ruffians and smacked out one of them and Alvin and he took the bike and sped away. James did the same. He and George went on the next bike. The ruffians were now very close to our heroes but Mason and James put the brakes turned and ran away. The ruffians were again too late and the five ran away.

MONDAY, JANUARY 2, 2016

THE TREASURE HUNT

"We not only escaped but also got these bikes! It will be easier now to reach Beverly Hills.", told James. "This bike is really fast and easy to control", added Mason. Alvin again took out the map and looked for Beverly Hills. "Beverly Hills is not far away. It's only 20-25 miles", he told. Then we will reach there by 10 o'clock", told George. They stopped talking and resumed their journey. It was quite a good way to Beverly Hills. Most of the way round the mountains and villages and only some way road. "A good nature drive", told James. Timmy was never tired to follow and catch up with the four. His tongue was hanging out by the time Beverly Hills was achieved. "My tongue is hanging out just like Timmy's", said Mason and everyone laughed. They bought some ice-creams, even Timmy got one. "It's a waste of ice-cream on Timmy, he just gulps them and never has time to taste them.", said Alvin. Everyone laughed. Timmy gave a loving lick on Alvin's leg. "No Timmy, I like you a lot but please, no licks," Alvin told. James secretly took out Alvin's map and started looking for places where they could find the treasure. Alvin saw this and took his map back. "Okay, don't be so angry!", James told. Saying so, he went to a shop keeper and asked "Do you know where is Egmo cave!" "Yes, it's there straight. If you have any vehicles then you can reach there around 1 o'clock. It is about 70 miles from here. "Thank you". Said James and told this to the others. James, are you joking! Telling us to drive 70 miles without rest!" told Mason. "Yes, then what! We have a treasure to find". He said in whispers. We will surely take rest when we reach there, right James! Asked Alvin. You've gone mad! Even I might faint if we don't take rest! Said James surprisingly. "Then let's go! Said Mason suddenly and happily. They started going and James took Mason's bike from the ruffians, give it to me back!" said Mason. "Okay, don't get furious", replied James and saying so, got down from the bike. All were set to go. "Whooh!" exclaimed Mason and accelerated the bike and rode it so quickly that George said, "Mason Stop this nonsense right now!" Mason heard this and started going slowly. James was like "Fail Mason!", Mason was now not so short tempered! He bared the insult and rode it with patience. The five reached Egmo Cave around 12:30. Everyone got down and took out the things that they bought from the shop-keeper. There were pancakes, plums, apple pie, cheese cake and hot cocoa. Everybody ate their things heartily and James told "let's take some rest at this 'Egmo Rest house!' .

Everyone approved. Mason went inside and booked a room for the day. 'It's quite cheap, only 4000 $ per day'. Mason told sarcastically. 'Okay, come on guys! Let's go in', said Alvin and everyone went inside the room. It was quite big almost 30x10 feet for a bed room. The kitchen had two ovens, lots of edible things in a fridge. Everyone liked their rooms. It was evening by the time they roamed Egmo Rest house, of course for it was that big!

WHO IS TRAPPED!!

The next day was again bright and sunny. Everyone woke up, ate their breakfast and went out to roam. The five also had their breakfast and Mason said 'Hurry up, guys!' Egmo cave! Treasure!', he said in whispers. 'Yes, let's go Mason!', said James and everyone went inside the cave. It was quite dark. Mason always bought some match sticks and lit a fire. Now it was good. 'Let's proceed', said George. After walking for a longtime, they got a big surprise. Some ruffians were taking a map and walking towards the five. The five rushed and hid behind a large rock. Alvin quietly saw the map and was astonished. There was a treasure mark in the map which he was. After the ruffians went away. The five came out from their hideout. 'Oh, shot!', exclaimed Alvin said to the others and the others were also disappointed.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 3, 2016

A WHOLE LOT OF EXCITEMENT!

Even though the ruffians took the map, the five went further in the hope of getting clues. James went first. 'Yoo-hoo! He exclaimed! 'What happened? 'Asked the other three in chorus. 'Actually, there's still another map over here. The ruffians didn't take this map after all,' replied James. Alvin took the map, examined it and grumbled, 'Guys, this is a useless map. There's nothing but places in Romania.' Saying so, he almost threw the map but Mason took it. 'I saw some cross over here. Anyone has microscope?' asked Mason. James produced one and Mason saw through it. 'Yes! There is a cross!' he exclaimed. It looks like someone is trapped here. 'There is a photo near the cross and an arrow connecting the cross and the photo', said Alvin. The five again heard some noises. 'Oh shit, the ruffians are coming back', said George recognizing the voices. The five again hid behind a rock till the ruffians went away. James came out and suddenly.....

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 4, 2016

AN ESCAPE MISSION EXECUTED ONCE MORE!

The ruffians caught James and started running away. They had already seen the map of the trapped person but thought it was useless and went away. But when they heard James screaming in happiness, they suspected that someone had come after them and found something exciting in the map. When they came again, they saw a part of James shirt and acted like going away but when James came out and caught James. Now, I hope you understood the situation and I will continue with that running part. When the ruffians ran far away, the four unrecognized heroes came out. You know who it is, George, Mason, Alvin and Timmy. James threw the map to Alvin when he was being dragged away. Mason was really upset after all, it was his brother who was being dragged away. 'Guys, we have to save James', said Mason.

AT JULIAN'S PLACE

Meanwhile, even Julian had gone through a lot of danger. Some unknown intruder came inside with 50 ruffians and invaded the headquarters. The head of the ruffians show now captured Julian's place. Julian and his men were locked up. None of the ruffians bothered to take any mobiles from Julian and his men. Julian said 'Guys, we have been locked'. But I just remembered one thing. The head of the ruffians Shaw as they call him was in one of the most wanted criminals list. We can capture him but only if our other men come. I will call them up right now, the other men agreed. They were coming when Julian overheard Shaw talking. Shaw told "Dawkins go and finish those detectives along with that dog of theirs, Timmy'. Dawkins proved himself and was Shaw's right hand man because they both were equal in strength.

History does not repeat itself!

Guys, it is often said that "History always repeats itself" but I have proved it wrong. I will tell you the situation in brief. It started off like this....

2 years ago, Nottingham in Sherwood had a really good, no, best fighter, that is Shaw. One day, as Shaw was walking through the road, he approached a bridge which was up of a river. It was suitable for one person to go through the bridge at one time. When Shaw was about to use this bridge, another man from the other side of the bridge wanted to use it. Shaw scornfully said "Hey there! Move out for I am going to use this bridge. 'No, you step aside for I am stronger than you' said the stranger.

'Is it! Asked Shaw furiously. 'Then take out your sword, for there will be a bloodless combat taking place over here, said Shaw. 'This is going to be fun' said Dawkins, the stranger in scarlet. Two fighters moved in a circle like dogs. Soon the two started to fight. 'Ahhh! Shouted both the fighters-as-the ground beneath them began to wear out because of their legs. Since Shaw and Dawkins were equal in power, the fight was a deadly one. But very soon, Shaw began to tire out. Dawkins utilized tis chance and gave Shaw a blow on his head with his bare hands. Shaw fell down into the river and was declared the loser. Dawkins asked him 'By-the way, what's your name? 'I am Shaw Stevenson' said Shaw. 'Shaw Stevenson! Exclaimed Dawkins. 'I am really sorry, so that's why you were a tough competitor' said Dawkins. They both got up and this is how Dawkins became the right hand man of Shaw Stevenson.

Now, I will continue with the planning of ruffians' part. Dawkins agreed to go but in one condition. I should go but 50 men will accompany me secretly and I get 300 pounds for this tough mission' said Dawkins. Your conditions shall be fulfilled' said Shaw. Just after this affair was over, the other men of George stormed into the headquarters and captured Shaw and the ruffians. Dawkins luckily escaped and was on his way to finish the story of the five. He was also carrying a revolver with him. A man of George who was locked up saw Dawkins going and informed George. George immediately called one of his fighting men to go behind Dawkins secretly and kill him with a spear. 'Why the spear, sir? Asked the man. 'If you take a sword then you have to go close to him so a spear would help you to throw from far and he cannot injure you! Said George. The soldier started following Dawkins. George had particularly chosen this man because he was a naval officer.

A Failure of a Mission

While Dawkings was Wait, even Timmy was toping along with George and Alvin. While Dawkings was following the five, sergeant aimed and shot at Dawkings leg. It hit him and Dawkings fell down with pain. The five turned back and went to him. Jack Said 'Sorry', and killed Dawkings mercilessly. After this, they went back to the headquarters, where they were greeted warmly.

Shaw is not happy.

Mason told everything that happened when they were in Egmo Cave. Julian used his tracking device and tracked James. There he is. 'Hey! Can you see the other man's face', asked Mason surprised. Isn't he the same man in the map' said Alvin. 'That means these guys; the ruffians captured James and the other guy. But for what? Asked George. 'As far as I thought, they probably caught James so that they force him to help them in finding the treasure' said Alvin. And that other guy, hey George, can you give me your Samsung Tab, asked Alvin. George gave it to him. 'Oh yes! 'Exclaimed Alvin'. What happened Alvin? Asked Mason. This guy in the map is Mason's and James's friend, Antonio' explained Alvin. 'Antonio, that guy who was an army officer, asked Mason. 'Exactly! Said Alvin. 'George, Sorry Julian, track down again James and Antonio closely, said Mason, 'More, More' said Alvin. Julian showed them in the closest view. 'Not more than this can I Zoom' he said. 'That's good!, said Mason, thought in his mind. 'What's good? Asked George. 'See- the pocket of Antonio' replied Mason. Everyone was really happy. If only Antonio could free himself from the rope, so he could escape with James. Alvin promptly sent a message to James. James read it and was very much excited. Antonio and he quickly devised a plan and Antonio struggled and finally freed himself from the rope. He untied James and both of them quietly...

Shock for the ruffians! Part 1

The two of them stealthily went to the secret chamber below their legs and a really big surprise. There were the three awesome cars. Hennessey Venom GT, Lamborghini Veneno, Lamborghini Gallardo and 7 motor bikes. The wo winked at each other, took the motor bikes and sped away. They were out again in the fresh air and now this was shock for the ruffians!

Picture not needed!

Roared one of the ruffians who wanted to take a picture of Antonio and James so that they may send it to their whole gang so that in case they both escape, their gang members would have made them captives. Now since the heroes were in front of his eyes, he roared like that. The ruffians had too come with motor bikes.

Chase the Captives!

The other ruffians, who had come with their leader probably, started chasing James and Antonio.

There were about twenty of them, and it was going to be a tough job evacuating them. Three ruffians came forward with knives and Antonio was not riding really fast, so the ruffians soon caught up with him. The way the two came was a narrow pathway and the ruffians were soon going to stab Antonio. Antonio hit his tire on the ruffian's tire purposely and the ruffian fell down with a thud. The other two crashed onto their "fell down" friend. The two flew for some time in the air and fell headlong into the waterfall.

Treasure find mission ruined for the ruffians!

The others were not too fast and our two heroes escaped. They hurriedly went back to Julian's headquarters. "This is a really thrilling place to come!" said Antonio once they came back. "The ruffians took the map from us" said Alvin sadly. "But I got it back!" said James. "What the fu...fudge!"

Thomas Introduces himself!

There was a really old friend of James, guys, don't go back to the Paleolithic age! About 10 years back and guess what, he is in Romania. Since Thomas knew that James was there on a secret mission, he went to meet them. James and Mason were ecstatic. They talked for a long time and the topic about the ruffians arose. "Guys, I want to catch some smugglers", said Thomas. 'Smugglers!' said James. Thomas showed the pictures and there was a silence for a moment which was broken by James. "Guys, these are the same guys who locked us up, right?!"

The Game is up!

For once James was right. These were the same guys. "That means we are still not too late! Its night and the ruffians must have slept. Let's go and give them a surprise!" said Thomas. They then decided upon this and went promptly to the ruffian's hideout. And what a surprise! The ruffians woke up and started running. They went down some secret passage and pressed a button before they went. "Guys, the self-destructive button", said James. Now the heroes started searching for the secret passage button. By God's grace, no, this time by Dog's grace, Timmy pressed a button accidentally and the seven went down.

The ruffians are not too pleased!

The seven went down and landed safely. They saw the ruffians at once but this time ruffians were not ready. Our seven heroes captured the ruffians, went out of the secret passage and Julian came at that time with the police. The police arrested them and took them away. Now, the adventure is over but did I tell you what the treasure was and where was it! It was actually somewhere down the Beverly Hills! I thought the One-Ear Bill and his stolen treasure was just gone. I didn't think it would all end up like this. This is still not the end guys, and you know wat will I say next!
